I'm a self taught fullstack developer. I've been seeking for an intern or junior role where I can learn from inspiring developers in your company and gain actual work.

I don't mind not getting paid as I'm more interested in acquiring practical real world experience, than I'm in the finances

Unconventionally as it may seem, can I get such an opportunity from you ? I promise you'll smile back at this decision because I'm a hard worker and I learn really fast.

Thanks in anticipation
